

THE MAYA HERITAGE by Chloë Sayer

Thursday 05 June 2025
First lecture begins at 10.30am

Price £46.00 to include three lectures, tea/coffee & buffet lunch

Today we explore the rich culture of the Maya peoples of central America, ancient and modern. Their ancient achievements in art and architecture were matched by their knowledge of maths, calendrics and hieroglyphic writing. Mural paintings, ceramic figurines and intricately carved stone panels give us an insight into their religious rituals, music, warfare, textiles and courtly life. Across much of present-day Mexico, Belize, Guatemala and Honduras their great cities are now being rediscovered, half-buried in remote parts of the jungle, and some six million Maya still carry on many of the traditions of their ancestors.

The Discovery Day will end at about 3.15pm
